TEESHA LIEBER - tmlieber@gmail.com

Spontaneity Works, Detroit, Michigan
Medium: Marbling and Mixed Media

Detroit artist Teesha Lieber creates one-of-a-kind marbled papers, fabrics, and wood surfaces using the centuries-old technique of paper marbling. Paints are floated on water, manipulated into intricate patterns, and transferred onto prepared surfaces, making every piece completely unique.

Her colorful process offers strong visual opportunities for television and photography and introduces audiences to a rarely seen artistic technique.

Media topics:

- Traditional marbling techniques
 - Contemporary craft revival
 - Detroit artists and creative entrepreneurship

SUPHATTRA POLLACK - joyclay@gmail.com

Joy's Clay Flowers, Haslett, Michigan
Medium: Clay Sculpture

Working under the name Joy's Clay Flowers, Pollack hand-sculpts remarkably lifelike flowers from clay, carefully shaping each petal, leaf, and botanical detail before painting the finished pieces with oil colors. Her artistic process combines sculpture, painting, and botanical observation to create flowers that capture the beauty and delicate character of nature.

Pollack transforms simple materials into lasting botanical sculptures that celebrate nature's beauty.

Media topics:

- The process of creating realistic clay flowers
 - Translating nature into sculpture
 - The craftsmanship behind botanical art
